Good Shepherd Sunday and World Day of Prayer for Vocations

On this Good Shepherd Sunday and World Day of Prayer for Vocations, the Church reminds us of our call to become good shepherds of God's flock and good sheep of His parishes and invites us to pray for vocations to the priesthood, the diaconate and the consecrated life.

Both the Old and New Testaments use the image of a Shepherd and His flock to describe the unique relationship of God with Israel and of the Christ with Christians. [John 10].

We need to become good shepherds and good leaders: Everyone who is entrusted with the care of others is a shepherd. Hence, pastors, parents, teachers, doctors, nurses, government officials and caregivers, among others, are all shepherds.

We become good shepherds by loving those entrusted to us, praying for them, spending our time, talents and blessings for their welfare, and guarding them from physical and spiritual dangers. Parents must be especially careful of their duties by giving good example and instruction to their children, training them in Christian principles. Fr. Tony Kadavil <http://ebci.in/Sunday-Reflections.aspx>

Prayer: O God, who walked out of the tomb, hold us tightly as we turn away from the tombs of our own sin. Give us courage to let go of the trappings of death, to face our shame with your forgiveness, and to walk into new life and light by your grace. We are forgiven! Amen. Alleluia.

Catechism of the Catholic Church

CCC Paragraph 754: "The Church is, accordingly, a sheepfold, the sole and necessary gateway to which is Christ. It is also the flock of which God himself foretold that he would be the shepherd, and whose sheep, even though governed by human shepherds, are unfailingly nourished and led by Christ himself, the Good Shepherd and Prince of Shepherds, who gave his life for his sheep.

Jesus is the answer for the sinfulness that has grown in our lives.

Like the crowd that surrounds Peter, it is easy to be overwhelmed by our own brokenness in comparison with the Resurrection. The crowds, overtaken with shame at the price of their sinfulness, ask Peter, "What should we do?" Peter tells them to repent, and receive the new life Christ offers. [Acts 2].

This is our answer too. No sin is too bad to be forgiven, no shame too large to be wiped clean. If you've had an abortion, hurt the people you loved, been drowned by addiction, run away from responsibility, denied Jesus – this Resurrection is for you. If you've been lying to yourself, been paralyzed by selfishness, been too afraid to say yes to God – it's time to repent.

If you have cheated yourself or others, forgotten who (or whose) you are, refused to honour the lives of others – choose now to receive the life God wants to give you and to flow through you. It's Easter. This is the season to turn to Him, to allow His Death and Resurrection to be your new life too.
